

Highest Honors

Key Woman Award

The Champlin Women of Today has had 6 members recognized with the Key Woman Award.

The Key Woman Award is the highest honor a Minnesota Women of Today member can receive. It was designed as a chapter nomination of a woman who had shown exceptional involvement and growth in Woman of Today. The Key Woman Award started in 1975, as a system of recognizing women within the Jaycee Women organization for their dedicated service. The first award was presented at TOYM ion 1976. A woman cannot work toward this goal; it seeks her out after she has given her heart and soul to the organization.

Ambassador Award

The Champlin Women of Today has had 1 member recognized with the Ambassador Award.

The Ambassador Award is the highest recognition the United States Women of Today bestow on a local member. A nominee must have membership in the Women of Today for a minimum of five (5) years in order to be eligible. In 1985, the United States Women of Today was formed. With hard work, hope, believe, dreams and foresight, the organization has become strong. Through it's purpose, the Women of Today has touched thousands of lives and helped many communities. In November of 1990, the National Organization began a program that would recognize members who have made outstanding contributions to their state and the U.S. Women of Today. This honor is one that is given only to individuals who have displayed tremendous commitment and have made long-lasting contributions to our organization.
